Glenworth Valley aims to build and maintain a team of highly regarded, long term employees. To facilitate this, we place a heavy emphasis on recruiting applicants who not only satisfy the list of key result areas outlined in the position description but who also are the best cultural and personality fit for our team and the organisation. The recruitment process normally results in 2 – 3 applicants being short listed. These short listed applicants will be offered the opportunity to demonstrate their competency and so we can get to know each applicant better via a trial day where they will experience a typical day of work (in a voluntary capacity) followed by a formal interview at the conclusion of the day. Likewise a trial day provides applicants with an opportunity to gain a hands on insight into the role and the people you will be working with. If you are appointed to the role we will pay you for your trial day however if you are unsuccessful your trial day will be regarded as volunteer day.

Are you prepared to demonstrate your competency via trial day?

YES / NO

Please provide an honest and accurate self assessment of your competency in the following areas. Please don't be deterred if you have no or very little competency in a number of areas, this is normal. We are just trying to get an understanding of your skills and abilities. If required, on the job training can be provided to assist suitable candidates. With 1 being the lowest and 10 being the highest, please circle the number that reflects how much experience and how competent you are with the following:
